Food Service Purchasing Solutions

Optimize Your Food Purchasing Strategy

When you optimize your food purchasing strategy, you put yourself in a position for success. As a multi-industry group purchasing organization, The Campus Dining Purchasing Society is equipped to source for all the different needs of our members. That includes everything from broad, category-based sourcing to more tactical, product-level procurement. We analyze unit-level data and closely collaborate with members and suppliers to identify the right products and solutions, focusing on driving efficiencies and improving profits. Our unique relationship with our distributing partners allows us to provide a locked margin schedule, giving our members peace of mind in that they are receiving the best possible price for the highest quality product.
